Guidelines for your travel report

Thank you for writing this travel report! It gives us and our future exchange students valuable insight and information. Keep in mind that you are responsible for the content in your report.

We would like you to write approximately 2-3 pages, with the main focus being on the host university and your studies.

We would appreciate you following the below outline as a basis for your report; this will allow us to better facilitate and spread the report online.

Content
Name of the university, city, country, semester (e.g. Fall 15) and the program or subject you are studying at Lund University.

Name of city
The content should include a short description of the city and its surroundings, as well as any personal comments or reflections.

Name of the host university
The content should include a short description of the university; for instance, differences or similarities in relation to Lund University that are worth taking note of, as well as any personal comments or reflections.

Arrival
Content: Briefly describe your arrival experience and any orientation activities.

Courses
General
Content: Description of the academic system.

Name of course
Content: Teacher’s name, brief description of the course content, examination forms and a personal evaluation, on a general scale and/or about a specific module.

Accommodation
Content: Description/personal evaluation of the accommodation that was offered in the city, how accommodation was arranged, advice and/or tips on contacts, websites, costs, standards, etc.

Fun and leisure
Content: You decide!

Costs
Content: Compare to costs in Sweden. Was the cost of living cheaper or more expensive than you expected?

Other
Content: Practical tips and advice, preparations, Visa/residence permit applications, cultural observations, etc.

If you agree to the possibility of future exchange students contacting you, please write:
Your first name, surname, semester + year (e.g. Fall 15), e-mail address

Save and send in Word-format to outgoing@sam.lu.se
In the e-mail subject line, please write “Travel report: Country, university name, your name.”
If you would like to remain anonymous, write “student XX” instead of your name.

Thank you in advance!
