

Invitation

The Vice-Chancellor's Seminar

25 November 2015

PALAESTRA MAIN AUDITORIUM | 14:45–17:15

The efforts to develop a new strategic plan for the University are underway. The plan will take effect in 2017 and be valid for 10 years. It will become the University's single most important policy document the next decade and it is therefore very important that many of us are involved in drawing up the plan.

We would now like to invite University staff to a Vice-Chancellor's Seminar to discuss Lund University's goals and visions. The issues that we will discuss at the seminar include: What are the main challenges for LU? What do you want LU to be in 10 years? How will we get there?

Your perception and views on these issues are important and they will play a part in the design of the strategic plan. Therefore, we encourage you to come to the Vice-Chancellor's Seminar and discuss these and similar questions, and contribute your thoughts and ideas about the design of a new strategic plan for Lund University.

PROGRAMME

14:45 Coffee and cake are served

15:15 Vice-Chancellor Torbjörn von Schantz opens the seminar
Bo Ahrén, Pro Vice-Chancellor and project manager for the development of a new strategic plan, begins the discussion
